

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

Department of Statistics

MASTER'S THESIS PRESENTATION

YUCHEN SU

Department of Statistics
The University of Chicago

Laplacian Linear Solvers

MONDAY, July 24, 2017, at 10:00 AM
Jones 304, 5747 S. Ellis Avenue

ABSTRACT

We review the basic algorithmic paradigms underpinning solvers for systems of linear equations resulting from Graph Laplacians. We then study experimentally these components on some example graphs including those arising from Power Grids. Comparisons are then made with more general linear solvers.

For information about building access for persons with disabilities, please contact Laura Rigazzi at 773.702-0541 or send an email to lrigazzi@galton.uchicago.edu. If you wish to subscribe to our email list, please visit the following web site: <https://lists.uchicago.edu/web/arc/statseminars>.